Phillips Academy,

Andover, Mass.

CECIL F. P. BANCROFT, PRINCIPAL.

THE ACADEMY continues to prepare young men in large classes for the various colleges, and scientific schools, and in some cases for the professional schools. The attendance has gradually increased and for the present year the enrollment exceeds five hundred. Nearly half the students are from the New England States, and the remainder from more distant localities.

The expenses vary from $250 to $600 a year according to the accommodations selected.

The two courses, Classical and Scientific, each four years, include Mathematics, English, Latin, Greek, French, German, History, Natural Sciences, as required for admission to the most exacting colleges and scientific schools.

The next year begins Sept. 11, 1895, and closes June 20, 1896, with vacations at Christmas and Easter.

WE CAN SAY—

Nothing that will be a better endorsement of our work than to refer to the pages of this book. Care in arrangement, tasteful display of types, neat and effective printing, are all combined in a compliment to the printer.

WE MAKE A SPECIALTY—

Of School and College Work.
Our strong point is Adapting Printing to Requirements.
The right thing, in the right place, at the right time,
Applied to your expenditure for Printer's Ink,
Means money for you.

JOHN N. COLE, Manager.

The Andover Bookstore

English Commons Directory

In a long dark row of houses
Just beyond the Dining Hall,
Where Major, with his frowning face,
Serves hash from his little stall ;

There live convivial fellows,
And, if you'll hear my ditty,
I'll tell you who the dear boys are,
Not knowing them's a pity.

Of all the scape-goats in the row
You will find them in house one.
They're very fond of pies, I hear,
Sometimes swiping them, just for fun.

There is Emmons who is sweet on girls,
And Woodbine, darling fellow,
Who's "struck" on cider, so they say,
When it is brown and mellow.

And little "Dickie Lowrie," too,
How he longs to "cut a gash ;"
And "Sport" Kernar, the man next door,
Why ! he's always on the mash.

But let us hasten on a step
To house second in the row,
There are some dandies there 'tis said ;
Some fine fellows, "don't cher know."

There are Skinner, Sheak and Eaton,
Sлимпsey Taylor fills the list,
When morning spreads its golden light
They are always playing whist.

And down upon the bottom floor
Are found French, and White, and Brown,
Who take a night off now and then,
As 'tis said, "to do the town."

House three has not such men in store,
Yet we cannot pass it by.
A little may be said of them ;
A little, but on the sly.

There is Mason, great pretension,
With his dainty little feet,
With which he cuts his Sunday wood,
While the fellows try to sleep.

Dave Perham and " Freshie " Fulton
Are always pleased in scrapping,
When fellows below are plugging,
Or perhaps McGouldrick's napping.

There is one I have not mentioned,
But I will not tell his name ;
He's called a " typical Yankee,"
From a little town in Maine.

To the fourth house we have wandered ;
What a " bee-hive," you will say,
When you hear that three apartments
Contain Lawrence men each day.

" There are others " we've not mentioned,
But they'll pardon us we know,
When they find we've got to visit
Fifth house, greatest in the row.

There are Branch, and Laing, and Benner,
Sporting lives revised, each one ;
Laing 'tis said, " he does the leading "
In all comedies of fun.

There is Gordon, great Mikado ;
Pierson, known the world around ;
Easton, famous as an artist
When no other can be found.

There is Peter the Great, Auten ;
Nowell, with his fleecy hair ;
Holman, pretty little fellow,
With his sunny face so fair.

Now my story's nearly ended,
Nonsense, you will say, but then,
Isn't it that some is relished
Often by the wisest men ?

"A poor showing on third."

History of the Year

September 12.

School opened.

September 14.

Recitations commenced. Foot-ball practice. About fifty fellows reported on the campus for first practice.

September 22.

First foot-ball game. Score: P. A. 32, Boston Latin 5.

September 27.

Jesse Barker elected captain of second eleven.

October 6.

F. S. Porter chosen manager of the Reading Room. Foot-ball training table started.

October 10.

Second fall handicap tournament of the Athletic Association was held on the upper campus. It was not a great success.

October 15.

Mr. Eaton was not found on the platform at Chapel.

October 15.

Trials for Dramatic Club.

October 16.

Tennis Tournament. Dodge won the singles; Dodge and Field the doubles.

October 19.

Lecture at Abbot Academy, "Pagan Rome, the City of Caesars," by Rev. H. G. Spalding.

October 23.

Lecture, "Foot-ball at Yale," by T. Cochran, P. A. '90.

November 1.

Mr. Benedict was found in his room at 8.30 P. M.

November 7.

Andover 26, Yale '98 0. The annual game with Yale Fresh. took place after the heavy snow had been removed from the campus by the fellows. The team was watched very closely, as it was the last game to be played before the Lawrenceville game. The team showed good form, Branch doing the best work.

November 8.

The Senior class chose a pipe for class emblem.

November 9.

Class of '97 abolished the old time cane rush, substituting a base-ball game.

November 14.

Lawrenceville had no trouble in defeating Andover in the first annual foot-ball at Lawrenceville, N. J. The game was a hard-played one from start to finish. Ellicot, Porter and Branch were badly injured. The work of Princeton coaches told, and Andover was clearly out-played, the end rushers finding it impossible to prevent Lawrenceville backs from going around the ends. For Andover, Branch, Holt, Porter, and Hine did the best work.

March 22.

Philo-Forum debate.

March 30. Harvard Base Ball Game.

We publish the following short account of the first base-ball game of the season, as taken from the Boston Globe:

The Harvard base-ball team opened its season by defeating the Phillips Andover nine on Soldiers Field yesterday afternoon, 17 to 5. Only seven innings were played, but that was enough for both teams and a great plenty for the spectators who shivered through the game.

The Andover boys made a great impression in their preliminary practice. They handled the ball cleanly and threw around the bases in almost professional style. Their infield work in the game was very good, six of their eleven errors being made by the outfield. The outfielder's job, however, was a hard one on account of the wind, and most of the errors were excusable. A game under conditions like that of March 30 is no standard by which to judge the work of a team.

For Andover, Barnes was the easy star. He is good enough for any college team, and he did the best fielding of the game. He scored Andover's first run by running from second to home across the diamond, a play which eluded the eye of Umpire Keefe.

Holman made a circus catch of a fly in the first part, and after that dropped two hard flies and made a wild throw. Once or twice the academy boys got rattled and threw the ball around recklessly, giving a few runs to Harvard. Harker got in a timely single in the fourth, which sent in two of Andover's runs. The score :

Book Notices

The Mirror Publishing Company, (Limited,) announces the following publications for the coming year :

DONALD GORDON'S latest work, entitled "What I don't know about things in general." Limited to 6,000,000 copies for the United States and Canada.

MARLBOROUGH CHURCHILL, author of "Giddiness Personified, or, The Maid of the Mist."

R. S. BENNER, author of "Me, I, Myself and Other Stories."

IN PRESS: "Autobiography of my Own Self, including my adventures, my views and my methods of writing, together with an exhaustive explanation of how I came to do it."

Editors' Statement

WE HAVE endeavored to fill the school wants in this the third annual by compiling the principal statistics of the two terms just past. We regret that we could not complete the school year, and earnestly wish that our successors might take up the thread that we have left. We are greatly indebted to Mr Freeman for his advice and assistance, and to the following for their contributions : To Greenway, Bray, Hinkle, Easton, Flenner, Alger, and Woods for cuts, and especially to Klotz Ex. P. S. '96, who so kindly furnished us with plates for the front and back of book ; to Hopkins, Eastman, L. A., Edwards, Symonds, Fortescue, No. 21, and No. 6, for grinds.

The first prize for the best collection of cuts is awarded to Eustis ; second to R. R. Whiting ; third to Lawrence.

The first prize for grinds is awarded to W. G. Bale ; second to S. G. Bristol ; third to Russell Hall. Owing to the small number and inferior quality of the poems received, no prizes will be awarded.

is not the style of "ad" which we intended to place here, but owing to a

RUSH OF BUSINESS

we were unable to follow out a previously laid plan of exhibiting to the readers of this publication a handsome sample of our half-tone work in colors.

OUR SUCCESS UNPARALLELED.

We have been compelled to enlarge our quarters to over twice our former capacity to accommodate our ever-increasing trade.

WHAT BETTER EVIDENCE NEED YOU

of the quality of our work and our ability to please our customers?

Clothing and Furnishing Goods

FOR MEN AND BOYS, READY-MADE AND MADE TO MEASURE.

In the Department for Clothing to order will be found, in addition to a full line of seasonable goods,—all the year round weights in all qualities, with a wide range of price, thereby giving the fullest opportunity for selection.

The particular care exercised by us in the cut, manufacture, and novelty of pattern in our MEN'S READY-MADE STOCK, is also extended to our CLOTHING FOR BOYS AND CHILDREN, and guarantees exclusive style and the best of value at no higher prices than are frequently asked for garments made in large wholesale lots and for inferior workmanship.

Our Furnishing Goods embrace a most complete assortment of articles in that line for Boys as well as Men; Underwear, Hosiery, Gloves, and Neckwear in original shapes and colorings imported by us from leading London manufacturers — also Lounging Jackets, Waterproof Coats, etc.

In this Department we have added a new line of leather and wicker goods, including Luncheon Baskets, Holster Cases, Sheffield Plate Flasks, Riding Whips, Crops, Dog Canes and Golf Sticks.

Catalogues, Samples, and Rules for Self-Measurement sent on application.
